Historic Cease-Fire Parley Under Way at Kaesong

The Political Cauldron

Washington, July 10—(AP)—Senator Duff (R-Pa.) is thinking about going to Europe late this summer and if he does he may call on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Some politicians think the Pennsylvania senator might seek some information on the availability of the five-star general for the 1952 Republican presidential nomination.

Thus far Duff has contended he doesn't know whether Eisenhower would run if he were asked. But the Pennsylvanian, an Eisenhower backer, doesn't seem to be worried on that score.

Of possibly greater present worry to Duff is what might happen in the jockeying for control of the 73-vote Pennsylvania delegation at next year's party nominating convention in Chicago.

As the man who licked the GOP "Old Guard" for the Senate nomination in his state's primary in 1950, Duff was regarded for a time as having the Pennsylvania delegation practically in his pocket.

Politicians here have heard recently, however, that the forces of former U. S. Senator Joseph Grundy are trying for a comeback in which they hope at least to split the delegation.

Grundy, traditional GOP organization leader in the state, backed Duff when the latter won the governorship in 1946, but opposed him when Duff ran for the Senate last year.

Some of Duff's friends apparently think the Grundy forces might take a flyer on former Gov. Howard H. Stassen of Minnesota, now president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Stassen himself lent some color to this rumor with a recent statement. He said a decision he will make later in the year about whether to seek the 1952 Republican presidential nomination will be influenced by what the people of Minnesota and Pennsylvania want him to do.

Friends of Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who is in the nomination race in every way except by public announcement, obviously hope part of the Pennsylvania delegation will go to him if there is a split.

Taft is keeping out of the backstage battle, at least until the situation shows more signs of jelling.

Youngsville Post Tentatively Filled By Borough Council

C. J. Schumacher, of Pittsfield, employed at Youngsville National Bank, was tentatively elected treasurer of Youngsville borough to succeed the late Charles W. Spencer, at an adjourned meeting of Youngsville council held last night. A question of Mr. Schumacher's residence will have to be determined before he can be formally appointed.

Other business to come before the council was the awarding of bids for 1000 feet of four-inch water main. The bid of the John Mansfield Company, of Erie, was accepted for transite pipe at 96c per foot.

Council also passed a police regulation, establishing a westbound bus stop and parking space in front of the Rapp and Wilcox store at the east end of the main street bridge. This will make places on either side of the street where buses can pull out of traffic lanes to take on and discharge passengers.

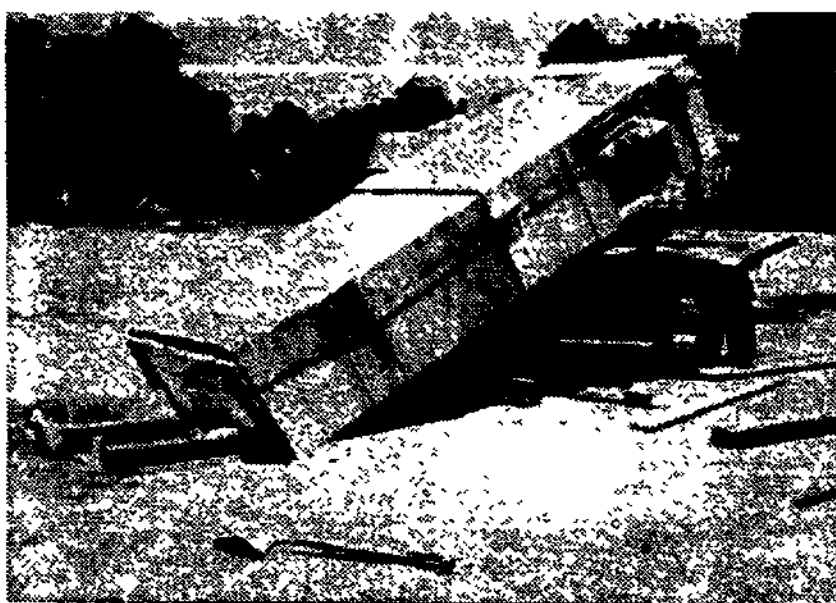

Justice of the Peace W. H. Brazee reported $98 in fines collected for the month of June.

Corry Man Dies in Gas Truck Wreck

Corry, July 10—(AP)—James P. Mead, about 70, of Corry, burned to death when his make-shift oil truck hit a concrete bridge and exploded on Route 77 four miles south of Corry.

State police said Mead apparently lost control of the truck yesterday as it descended a slight grade. The oil drum, loaded with gasoline, spread flames across the bridge and cracked the concrete.

Police ordered the bridge closed to traffic until engineers inspect it. Mead was transported the gas-truck to Corry from Pittsburgh.

MEMORIAL SHAFT—The granite shaft for the Memorial monument at War Memorial Field was delivered here from Vermont late yesterday. The shaft, encased in wood, is now being raised onto its concrete foundation. Names of the county's war dead from World Wars One and Two and the Korean conflict are inscribed on the shaft. Dedication ceremonies are scheduled for July 26. (Times-Mirror Photo)

Tense Drama Is Touched Off By Phone Call Home

Philadelphia, July 10—(AP)—Sydney Cardonick, who repairs radios, vacuum sweepers and such, had a job to do in a customer's home last night.

Being a devoted family man, he took along his six-year-old son Raymond. He wanted Deborah, three years older, to go, too, but she was playing outdoors and he did not care to spoil her fun.

For some time Cardonick had been worried over his wife's despondency. Yet, things had seemed a bit brighter lately, and his mood as he listened to the little boy's chatter was more cheerful than it had been for days. Gradually, though, the old fears beset him again. He tried to reason himself out of them, but it wasn't any good.

Certain now that something was wrong at home, he made his way to a telephone booth and dialed his home.

As set down in police records, this is what happened after Cardonick's wife answered the phone: "Marian, is everything all right?"

"No, everything isn't all right," she replied. "I'm going to kill myself. I have all the windows closed and the gas burners on. I'm going to die."

Then the phone went dead.

Desperately Cardonick rang police.

A sergeant told him to call his wife again and "keep talking." He dialed once more. She answered. For 10 or 12 minutes—maybe longer—he held her on the line, saying over and over: "Don't do it, Marian, please don't do it!" Outside the heat and torment of the booth stood little Raymond, peering through the narrow glass panels, not knowing what it was all about.

The wife's voice faded out. Cardonick called again.

Firemen Extinguish Paint Shed Blaze

A blaze at the United Refining Company called out all fire equipment at 5:55 p. m. yesterday, but damage was confined to a small paint storage shed at the west end of the plant. Loss was estimated at $500 by Fire Chief Albaugh this morning.

No cause was given for the origin of the fire, but firemen laid about 300 feet of 2½ inch hose and doused it with water. Loss consisted principally of opened cans of paint, brushes and work clothing.

About 1,000 gallons of paint in cans was stored in the room and was not damaged. The room was locked at the time, and plant officials are at a loss to determine the cause.

Fire equipment returned to stations at 6:25 o'clock.

Hazleton, July 10—(AP)—Joseph J. Bruno, onetime political leader in Luzerne county and a central figure in the "Kelley massacre" 17 years ago, died last night at St. Joseph hospital.

Bruno had been ailing for six weeks.

Five persons were killed and 12 wounded in an election eve riot in Hazleton in 1934. A shotgun blast came from Bruno's house.

He was sentenced to prison and released in 1942 on a parole.

STOP SIGNS PLACED ALONG E. 5th AVENUE

Employees of the State Highway Department completed today installation of stop signs on streets leading into East Fifth avenue, from Conswango avenue east to the borough line.

This move is in line with action taken recently by borough council in declaring East Fifth a through street.

Signs erected will govern traffic entering from Orchard, Brook and Lookout streets on the north side of the avenue; Beatty, Prospect, Myrtle and Redwood on its south side.

Youngsville Boy Struck by Auto

Philip Harkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Harkins, West Main street, Youngsville, was painfully injured last night about 6 o'clock when he was knocked to the pavement by a car operated by Jay Richards, of Youngsville.

The accident occurred at the east end of the Main street bridge. The youngster was taken to the office of Dr. T. H. Gettings for treatment and then to Warren General Hospital where he was admitted with a possible skull fracture. His condition is reported as good this morning.

According to Chief of Police Ed Chappel, Richards was driving east on Main street and the youngster started to run across the pavement at the end of the bridge, ducking out from behind a parked car. There were no marks on Richards' car, Chief Chappel said, indicating that the lad brushed against it and was thrown to the pavement.

DELAY OPENING

Pittsburgh, July 10—(AP)—The opening date for the greater Pittsburgh airport has been set back a year. The U. S. Air Force yesterday told Pittsburgh city council that an addition of 2,500 feet to the east-west runway will delay opening of the field to commercial flights until the fall of 1952. The airport originally was scheduled to open this fall. The runway is already 5,500 feet long.

Korean Peace Camp Has Atmosphere Of a Festive September Country Fair

Peace Camp, Munsan, Korea, July 10—(AP)—Today's scene at the home base of the U. N. cease-fire delegation was a mixture of the genuinely impressive, the merely important and the plainly absurd.

There also was a bit of an air of a September country fair. "Tent City" is laid out much like the tents at a small carnival or circus. Glittering military police and special guards surrounded all the gates and entrances. There were special parking lots for the aircraft and jeeps.

And there were nearly 100 newsmen of every shape, type and description. The only important news agency not represented this morning was TASS—the official Soviet news service.

The few women reporters staying at Seoul were not on hand for the first takeoff. The newsmen here represented every important media outside the iron curtain. Not only were the wire services out in strength—the Associated Press had six men at this one spot alone—but almost every important newspaper in the world had a correspondent.

The Army Navy and Air Force public information officers, trying to be helpful, often shouted out their various and rival attractions like barkers at a sideshow.

Special House-Senate Group Seeks Solution to Tax Deadlock

Harrisburg, July 10—(AP)—A special House-Senate committee dug today into the task of laying the groundwork for a compromise tax program.

Out of the conference could come a move to end a Senate impasse on taxes that is likely to record the 1951 legislative session as the longest in more than a century.

Eight Republicans from each the House and Senate sat down to the meeting.

It will be up to the Senate contingent to convince the House delegates to backtrack on its support of Gov. John S. Fine's proposal for a one-half of one per cent personal income tax.

The lower chamber passed the income levy in April. Its leaders have to date been adamant in sticking by that tax, the backbone of the administration $1,220,000,000 budget for the next two years.

All tax legislation must originate in the House.

The Republican House caucus, in authorizing the appointment of a delegation to the Tax Compromise committee, made it known yesterday the move could not be construed as a withdrawal from its support of the income tax.

The three-month deadlock on taxes arose from the refusal of 11 GOP senators to back the income levy.

Two weeks ago, as the legislative entered into summer sessions, the GOP Senate caucus named eight of its number—four each from income tax backers and opponents—to look into the possibility of a compromise tax program.

The Senate committee came up with a tax plan to replace the income levy. It ranged from re-enacting a soft drinks tax at two cents a bottle to increasing beer, liquor and inheritance taxes.

The governor, in a series of radio talks at Pittsburgh last night, viewed the new developments with optimism, declaring:

"The hot air of confusion surrounding the administration's tax program is abating. A cooling breeze of reason is springing up in sufficient force to indicate passage of a satisfactory and necessary tax bill, or tax bills, may not be too far off."

Fine, however, emphasized that he was withholding judgment on the specific taxes mentioned in the compromise until the legislature completed action on them—if any such action is taken.

At the same time, he renewed a threat to cut appropriations to the extent that the legislature fails to provide taxes that will balance the administration's budget.

Switch Reported In British Tactics Regarding Iran Oil

Tehran, Iran, July 10—(AP)—A sharp switch in British tactics in the Iranian oil dispute became increasingly clear today. There's a surprising move to soft-pedal previous threats to withdraw all British technicians from Iran and "let the Persians stew in their own oil."

A new policy of trying to hang on as long as possible—in the face of nationalization of holdings of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian oil company—is replacing the tough talk of only a week ago that the big refinery at Abadan and the surrounding south Iranian oil fields would be shut down.

One Iranian official, commenting on the new developments, declared:

"We've always said the British were bluffing when they threatened to pull out. It looks as though Premier (Mohammed) Mossadegh's 'no compromise' stand is working."

There was no indication that Mossadegh would change that "no compromise" determination to seize control of the billion-dollar company's Iranian installations. But a government spokesman said the premier is giving careful consideration to President Truman's offer yesterday to send his personal representative, W. Averell Harriman, to Iran to help end a settlement.

Mossadegh told U. S. Ambassador Henry F. Grady that Truman's latest mediation attempt came "a little late."

Official circles indicated they believed Mossadegh would accept the president's offer to send Harriman to avoid offending American public opinion—even though he may not back down on his oil nationalization aims.

Before he finished his list, a brother officer would sing out the tents at a small carnival or circus. Glittering military police and special guards surrounded all the gates and entrances. There were special parking lots for the aircraft and jeeps.

And there were nearly 100 newsmen of every shape, type and description. The only important news agency not represented this morning was TASS—the official Soviet news service.

The few women reporters staying at Seoul were not on hand for the first takeoff. The newsmen here represented every important media outside the iron curtain. Not only were the wire services out in strength—the Associated Press had six men at this one spot alone—but almost every important newspaper in the world had a correspondent.

The confusion reached its peak at the takeoff of U. N. delegates for Kaesong. This began when General Ridgway, walking beside Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, the senior delegate, led the group to the helicopters in a semi-military two-by-two formation.

As soon as they passed the barbed wire barrier into the helicopter lot, they were surrounded by a shouting, milling mob of photographers—50 at the very least. Flashbulbs flickered like lightning and the miniature camera workers closed in for the kill. This put them in front of the larger spot graphic men and there were blistering exchanges.

Control Board Ups Price of Milk in 3 Marketing Areas

Harrisburg, July 10—(AP)—The State Milk Control Commission today announced an increase in the price of milk in Pittsburgh and Erie of one cent a quart and a half-cent a quart in the Altoona-Johnstown area, all effective July 17.

Warren County is included in the Altoona-Johnstown area.

These are the same price increases proposed last month to become effective July 1. They were held up when court action was taken by the Pittsburgh city solicitor to have a public hearing on the orders.

The new prices for consumers and producers—(Old prices in parentheses):

Pittsburgh, 23 cents for delivery sales, 22 cents for store sales, producer price per hundredweight, $6.05; (22 cents delivery; 21 cents store; $5.70).

Erie, 22½ cents, producers, $6.05. (21½ cents and $5.70).

Johnstown-Altoona, 22 cents, producers, $5.92. (21½ cents and $5.75).

The commission said testimony presented at hearings in the three areas indicated western Pennsylvania might be faced with a severe milk shortage this fall and winter if producer prices were not increased.

The proposals were given to representatives of the industry at conferences here today.

The same proposed increases were issued last month but before they could become effective Assistant City Solicitor Albert D. Brandon of Pittsburgh asked the Dauphin county court to order the commission to hold a hearing on the increases.

The court returned the orders to the commission when Commissioner John J. Snyder told the court he was willing to go along with Commissioner John J. O'Toughlin on holding a hearing. Previously Snyder had teamed with Chairman H. N. Cobb in opposing a hearing.

28th Division Is Alerted For Duty In European Area

Washington, July 10—(AP)—The Army today alerted two National Guard divisions for movement to Europe this fall.

They are the 28th Division, originally from Pennsylvania, and the 43rd, drawn from Rhode Island, Connecticut and Vermont.

Two Regular Army divisions, the 4th Infantry and the 2nd Armored, started for Europe earlier this year.

The final units of the 2nd Armored Division are expected to reach Europe this month.

The 28th Division has been training at Camp Atterbury, Ind., and the 43rd at Camp Pickett, Va. Both National Guard divisions were called into federal service last fall.

Two other federalized guard divisions are already overseas, both of them in Japan. They are the 40th from California and the 45th Division drawn from Oklahoma.

The 28th Division is commanded by Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, of Columbia, Lancaster county, Penna. Maj. Gen. Kenneth F. Kramer of Wethersfield, Conn., commands the 43rd Division. He is a former chief of the National Guard Bureau.

Both the 28th and 43rd divisions are scheduled to take part in large scale maneuvers in North Carolina next month.

The Army did not announce any date for their departure for Europe, but presumably it will be after the maneuvers.

QUICKIES By Ken Reynolds

Franklin, Ky., July 10—(AP)—A passenger train pulled into Franklin on schedule last night at 8:40. The engineer, U. G. Elrod, was dead at the controls.

J. W. Moyers of the Franklin train station said an unidentified fireman saw the engineer slump in his seat as the train approached the city. The fireman applied the emergency brake and stopped the train.

Moyers said Elrod, about 60, of Bowling Green, Ky., apparently died of a heart attack.

The Louisville & Nashville passenger train was enroute from Nashville to Louisville.

U. N. Delegation Announces Discussions Will Be Limited To Military Affairs in Korea

Seoul, Korea, July 10—(AP)—Cease-fire representatives today "made progress toward an agenda to discuss an armistice," United Nations representatives said tonight.

Discussions will be resumed at 10 a. m. Wednesday (7 p. m. Tuesday EST) in Communist-occupied Kaesong.

A communique issued by U. N. Commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters said the two opening sessions on Tuesday were held in "an open and formal atmosphere."

At the outset of the talks Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, head of the five man U. N. delegation, announced discussions would be restricted to military matters in Korea. He said the Allies would not talk about anything else—no politics, no economics, no military affairs elsewhere.

Allied war correspondents were not permitted in Kaesong. They will not be allowed to go Wednesday, either, as planned earlier.

Brig. Gen. Frank Allen, chief of information, announced that plans to send 16 correspondents to Kaesong Wednesday were cancelled because General Ridgway "will do nothing to jeopardize the success of the conference."

He said newsmen would be sent to Kaesong "after the conference is on the track and there is assurance it will stay on the track."

The report on Tuesday's sessions was given to the press by an Army officer who had not been at the four-hour Kaesong meetings.

He said Communists had designated a "United Nations House" in the war-ravaged city for the use of U. N. delegates.

The Allies returned Tuesday night by helicopter to their "peace camp" at Munsan without comment.

When they arrived in Kaesong in the morning, the briefing officer said, the U. N. officers were met by American jeeps which preceded them there.

Helicopter pilots had reported the delegation was met by 15 jeep loads of Chinese, including some bearing side arms. They said armed Chinese stood guard around the field where the helicopters were parked throughout the day.

The briefing officer said the American jeeps carried the U. N.'s two admirals and three generals to U. N. house. They traveled under armed Communist escort.

As the briefing officer was making his report the North Korean Communist radio at Pyongyang said that withdrawal of all foreign troops was one of the conditions of peaceful settlement of the Korean war.

The Red radio said eventual solution of the Korean problem should be left to the Korean people themselves.

However, the Kaesong talks, as the U. N. viewpoint was outlined by Admiral Joy, will be restricted entirely to military matters.

In his opening statement he called on the five Red generals to show good faith in the negotiations and pledged the U. N. delegation would do the same. This, the admiral said, would generate an "atmosphere of confidence."

"In such an atmosphere," he said, "there is every reason to hope for success."

And he set strict limits to the subjects of discussion. Joy said the Allies want a stable peace but under no circumstances will they talk about:

1. "Political and economic matters of any kind." That includes the question of a United Nations seat for Communist China.

2. "Military matters unrelated to Korea." This ruled out Formosa and other troubled spots.

Joy said he and the four other military commanders comprising the U. N. delegation would "discuss military matters in Korea" necessary to end "hostilities in Korea, under conditions which will assure against their resumption."

Appointment of Tax Collector Announced

Judson Wilson, of Kellettsville, has been appointed tax collector of Kingsley township in Forest county, according to word received here today. The appointment was made by county commissioners at a recent meeting.

Wilson will replace Mrs. Ruth Zuendel, of Starr, who has retired after many years service.

Wilson also holds the office of vice president of the Allegheny River Improvement Association.

Coronation Ceremonies For Pleasant Township Celebration

Jean and William Wilcox were crowned Queen and King of the Pleasant Township Fire Department celebration last night with the ceremonies handled by Mrs. Paul Henning, assisted by Mrs. Frank Valone. The crowning took place at the South Side Show Grounds.

The royal couple received gifts from the Darling Jewelry, Miller Shopp, Betty Lee, Sylvania, Watt Office Supply, and the fire department and auxiliary. In addition, they were guests of Eddie's Exposition Show for the evening.

Tonight's feature will be another round in the county water battle competition, which will take

Small Groups of Reds Infiltrate the "Iron Triangle"

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, July 10—(AP)—July 10—(AP)—Small groups of Reds today infiltrated the old Chonwon-Kumhwa - Pyonggang triangle on the west-central front.

Intelligence officers said the Reds "want control of this area. They probably are sending down enough men to ambush any of our patrols."

The heart of the triangle is only 47 air miles northeast of Kaesong, where Red and Allied negotiators today began peace talks.

Sharp but relatively minor skirmishes dotted the entire battlefield.

B-29 superforts flew through thick rain clouds and dropped 70 tons of bombs on important Red supply centers at Sinpo and Kowon on the east coast of North Korea.

The big planes flew from Okinawa. They used radar to find their targets.

The Communist radio at Pyongyang claimed big victories in both ground and air action.

The nightly North Korean communique, monitored in Tokyo, said Red planes shot down six Allied jets. No details were given.

The Red radio also said heavy damage was inflicted on Allied ground troops on the central front. It said one U. N. battalion was "annihilated" and 11 machine guns and four artillery pieces were captured or destroyed.

There was no confirmation of any of these reports from Allied sources.

Red troops fired on Allied patrols at five points within the triangle area. It was the first important Red reaction in five days to Allied patrols operating extensively on that sector of the front.

Attacking U. N. forces on the east-central front were held to gains of a few hundred yards by Red small arms fire, land mines and booby traps.

YMCA Boys Report Delightful Time at Camp Sherwin in Spite of Bad Weather

The last period of the YMCA Camp at Camp Sherwin on Lake Erie was a very wet one and gave campers the opportunity of witnessing one of the roughest lay that had been seen for some time on the lake. Waves were breaking over the cement pier of the camp's waterfront and no swimming classes could be conducted the last two days.

Bad weather, however, did not cut down activities for the campers. On Tuesday afternoon, the boys were taken into the Erie "Y" for swimming and games in the boys' department and for the evening meal the campers cooked out in their own sections.

Howard Keel and Ava Gardner are two of the stellar principals in "Show Boat," M-G-M's lavish Technicolor version of the immortal musical play by Jerome Kern and Oscar Hammerstein, II, opening tomorrow at the Palace Theatre in Jamestown. Kathryn Grayson also stars in the new hit in the role of Magnolia.

The Fourth of July also had the damper put on, but after the morning details the group enjoyed games in the lodge, crafts, movies, and television.

Many of the boys entered their craft projects in an exhibit in the new mess hall, with Lee Thompson, Youngsville, and Dick Lowe, Warren, winning the prizes.

On the evening of the Fourth, the Jack Carson Show, "Tom Sawyer", and boxing matches were enjoyed on television, followed by a fireworks display on the camp grounds.

Thursday night featured the award campfire when awards for riflery were presented by Tom Campbell and Robert Cowden, archery by Leroy Salerno, nature by Paul Muzabaugh, swimming by Bill Mulvey, and the honor camper awards by the director, Murray Cameron.

The "C. M. Hengst" Honor Camper trophy, highest award bestowed on one boy every year, was presented to William Henry by James Hengst. Other honors went to Henry Lanman, Richard Lowe, Craig Forsgren, 3-year campers; Larry Boardman, Jim Miner, 2-year campers; and Chuck O'Connor, 1-year camper, for outstanding advancement in the Y. M. C. A. purpose in the camp setting. Each received an Honor Emblem and was congratulated by Mr. Cameron.

On the light side of the awards, Herschel Hester was given the pole vaulter award by his coach, Eugene O'Neill, for his exhibition at camp. Also getting certificates for getting the most sack time in camp were Marjorie Wilson, Mrs. James Hengst, and Mrs. Murray Cameron.

PRELIMINARY TRUCE TALK—Members of United Nations truce team (left) come face to face with Communist delegation in Kaesong, Korea after arrival by helicopter (right rear). UN and Red negotiators agreed at a six-hour meeting in Kaesong to open formal Korean cease-fire talks in the ancient walled city, July 10.

After the presentations, the group gathered in a friendship chain for a brief devotional service and before going to bed were treated to ice cream and permitted to stay up a little later to watch TV.

The TV set in camp was so popular that the boys voted unanimously to start selling salt water taffy in two weeks to get a set for the boys' department in Warren.

Friday morning, campers were hurrying around getting their things packed and having the camp pictures autographed. The bus rolled into the area about one o'clock in the afternoon and the boys took off shortly after with new memories to add to their boyhood days.

Mr. Hengst had announced that in the near future a campers' reunion will be held when all the pictures of the camp will be displayed and color slides taken will be shown.

This year the new mess hall was available at Camp Sherwin and plans are already in the making for three new toilet buildings with modern facilities and showers, a new headquarters building, and hard surface tennis courts, to be ready for next year. With these additions staff members and campers are all looking forward to even a bigger and better session in '52.

Wonder Horse Featured at Rodeo and Thrill Show at Starbrick Speedway

Roy Simpson puts "Trigger," his wonder horse, through a series of amazing intelligence tests and stunts that never fail to delight audiences. "Trigger" will be seen with the Rogers Rodeo and Thrill Show appearing tonight at the Dicky-Ben Speedway at 8:15.

Pine Grove Twp. Elects Solicitor

Russell, July 10—Holding their July meeting, school directors of Pine Grove township elected J. S. Stewart as solicitor for 1951-52 and received with regret the resignation of Mrs. Edwin Branstrom, second grade teacher. Mrs. M. A. Connelly, Warren, who was previously elected to the faculty, was named to the second grade post.

Applications will be received by the board for an instructor for the sixth grade, also for a part-time music teacher.

A communication was read from the Equalization Tax Board concerning assessed and market valuation of property. Members took action, also, on the exoneration list, totaling $304.50, approving all but two names on the list.

Director Vinton Finzer presented the report of janitor's supplies needed and authorized to make these purchases. Ralph Way was named to have grass at the rear of the building cut.

Rounding out the agenda, the board voted to advertise for bids covering painting of the doors, windows and cornices of the school building.

Cowboy Roy Simpson will present his Wonder Horse "Trigger" at the huge combined "Rogers Rodeo and Thrill Show", tonight at the Dicky-Ben Speedway, beginning at 8:15. This will be the closing performance of a two-day engagement in Warren.

"Trigger" is a golden stallion, with silver mane and tail. This 1200-pound gold beauty performs in a 10-minute act which is one of the big features of the "Rogers Rodeo and Thrill Show". "Trigger" kneels down to say his prayers. He even talks into the microphone. He can count up to 100. He can sound off the days of the week, his age, etc. No wonder he is called the smartest horse in the world.

"Trigger" will have plenty of company at the Rodeo and Thrill Show, with many horses and Brahma bulls on hand to be used in the big show.

One of the features is "Big Syd", who weighs some 1800 pounds—he's the bull that the Rodeo management gives any spectator $1000.00 to ride for 10 seconds.

Daredevils, rolling automobiles over and over—cars crashing in mid-air, aerial sensations, go to make up the big three-hour "Rogers Rodeo and Thrill Show", which has played to more than three million spectators, and will present its closing performance tonight at the Dicky-Ben speedway beginning at 8:15.

Road Improvements Are Considered In Sheffield Township

Sheffield, July 9—Bids for gravel and asphalt that will be used for resurfacing two Sheffield streets were accepted at the June meeting of the Sheffield township supervisors. The two streets to be blacktopped are Tan and Deerlick streets.

The supervisors accepted a bid from the General Concrete and Supply Company, Warren, for 200 tons No. 2B gravel and 100 tons No. 1B gravel.

The Russell Supply Company of Clarion, was low bidder for the asphalt. The company must apply by pressure 10,000 gallons of C-2 asphalt on the two Sheffield streets.

Although the bids have been accepted there will be no awarding of the contracts until funds are available. Work is not expected to begin until after the middle of August when money for the job will be realized from the tax on liquid fuels.

Discussion on the widening of the Center street loop revealed that the area must be surveyed and mapped by the county surveyors before a right of way can be secured from the Pennsylvania Railroad depot. Plans call for the loop to be widened six feet in front of the local postoffice.

Many Pass Swim Tests at Y Camp

Despite the inclement weather during the past two weeks at the Warren "Y" Camp at Camp Sherwin on Lake Erie, Bill Mulvey, waterfront director during the session, has reported a large number of boys who passed swimming tests.

Advancements made were as follows: non-swimmers to beginners—Otis Brown, Chris Creal, Bill Germonito, Don McKelvey, Bob Miley, Larry Miley, Ed McElwain, Bruce Riggie, Dick Swick, Dave Trager, Jim Watt, Larry Felton, Gary Nelson, Dick Tularo, John Tularo, and Doug Weston.

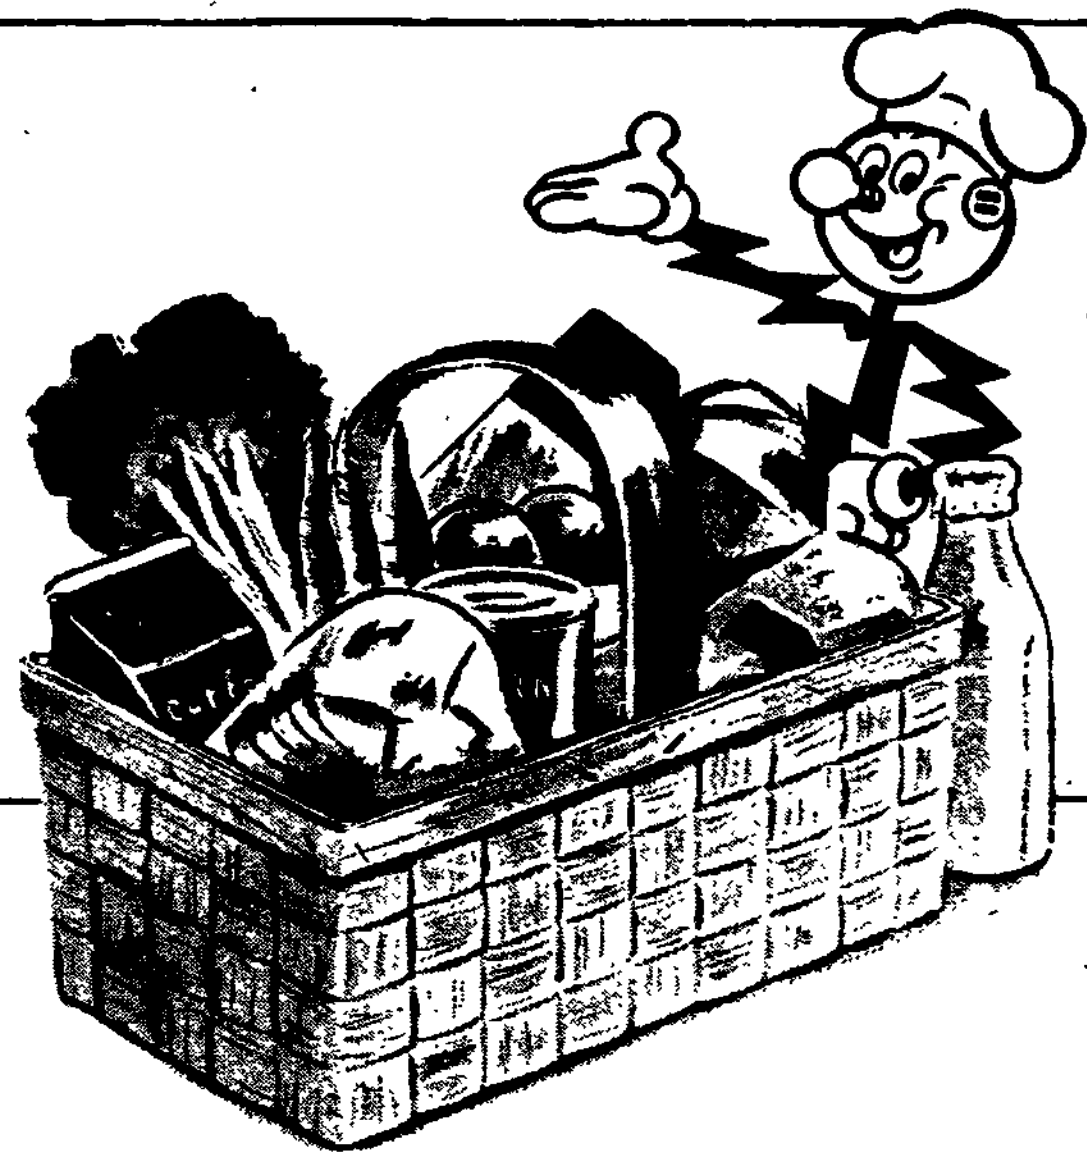

Beginners to minnows — Bill Elmhurst, Dick Elmhurst, Otis Brown, Sonny Gerrett, Jim Hag-an, Bob Haslet, Ed Lindsay, Alan McIntosh, Bob Miley, Dan Webster, Tom Casey, Don McKelvey, John Marymont, Gary Nelson, Bruce Riggie, Tom Watt, and Jim Watt.

Minnow to fish—Bill Angove, Tom Africa, Larry Boardman, Jerry Corbran, Nick Creola, Gib Hansen, Bill Mervine, Jim Miller,

WRIGHTSVILLE

Wrightsville, July 9—Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Danielson were entertained recently at the Ephraim Jones home with a supper party which included their nephews, Francis and Edward Swensen, Albuquerque, N. M. They made the trip east by motor and were accompanied home by Shirley Jones, who will vacation for a few weeks with her aunt, Mrs. Segred Jones Swensen, in New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. James Durlin, with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lee and daughter, Wanda, of Frewsburg, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Durlin, of Akelay, were recent dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wiler, Garland.

Helmer, Emily, Eleanor and Alfred Danielson and Florence Carlson visited recently at the home of cousins, Lily Mead, at Lakewood, and Olive Peterson, in Bustil.

Sweet Peppers Rich in Vitamins

Green Peppers Turn Red or Orange As They Ripen.

A few plants of sweet peppers, set out in the garden after danger of frost is over, will give big returns for the space they occupy. They are among the richest of vegetables in vitamins A and C and can be served raw in salads and cooked in many appetizing ways.

Early varieties can be grown from seed sown outdoors, after the ground warms up, but it is better to start plants indoors or buy them in the market. The plants are very tender, and should not be set outdoors until it is safe for tomatoes.

Space the plants 18 inches apart in the row and give them frequent cultivation. They like a rich, heavy soil, but thrive in lighter soils if given plenty of water. The pepper is one plant which likes a bath now and then; it can be washed off with the hose and will thrive the better for it.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change. The red peppers are highly decorative, and there are also attractive orange varieties.

The only insect likely to attack peppers is a flea beetle, which can be discouraged by spraying or dusting with nicotine or D.D.T. There are no diseases likely to bother.

Hot peppers are seldom grown in gardens, but if you wish to try them the same general cultural methods will suffice.

Egg Plant Good and Good Looking

Pick Eggplant Fruit When the Skin is Shiny.

Though of American origin, egg plant is more popular in Europe and in the Orient than in this country. Its nutritive value is high, and there are many tempting ways of cooking it.

Egg plant is closely related to peppers and tomatoes and takes so long to mature that plants are nearly always started indoors and transplanted to the garden. The plants require an even temperature and do not thrive in cold frames. A dozen plants are sufficient for the average family.

The dark purple fruits are highly decorative, and if you plan to enter a basket of vegetables in the harvest show, an egg plant is an absolute must in arranging an attractive display.

D.D.T. has been a boon to egg plant, because it destroys its chief insect enemy, the flea beetle, which eats tiny holes in the leaves.

The fruit may be eaten at any stage of growth, until its skin becomes dull. As long as the skin is shiny the fruit is in good condition, but when that stage passes, the fruit should be discarded. There are many tempting ways of cooking this vegetable and several different methods should be used during the season.

Egg plant is widely used in Asia, Japan and the islands of the Pacific; soldiers who served in that area had many opportunities to learn how it is served there.

The plants require rich feeding and should never be set out until all danger of frost is over. Set them 18 inches apart in the row and keep them growing by frequent shallow cultivation.

When fruits begin to set, a side dressing of plant food will make the fruits larger.

Sheffield Native Is Given Promotion

Bruce E. Jones, native of Sheffield and home on a brief leave before reporting for an overseas assignment, has been receiving congratulations on his promotion from the rank of major to that of lieutenant colonel.

The officer has been commander of the Third Battalion, 505th Airborne Infantry Division at Fort Bragg, N. C.

The son of Lewis E. Jones, formerly of Mill street, Sheffield, and now of Rochester, N. Y., Col Jones was graduated from Sheffield High School in 1935. He entered service in 1941 as a commissioned officer of the Pennsylvania National Guard and has been a member of the Panther Regiment at Fort Bragg since August, 1950.

Jones attended the command general staff school at Ft. Leavenworth, Kans., and took the advanced infantry course and basic airborne course at Fort Benning, Ga. He has a record of 36 months service in the Pacific Theatre during World War II.

His wife, the former Josephine Okerberg, and their two children, Kathleen and William, are remaining for the present at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sigfried Okerberg, in Sheffield.

UNPRECEDENTED DEMAND FOR OIL

It's the average citizen --- not the military --- that has built the fire under the oil industry, says Sam Dawson, in his column "Today's Business Mirror." He sums up the situation in the following manner:

The average citizen's unforeseen and unprecedented demand for oil products for his car, his furnace and his factory---and not the need of oil for the Korean war, large as that is---sends oilmen:

1. Scrambling for steel to expand facilities and seek new oil sources.
2. Pooling resources to stall off any shortages of heavy oil for industrial plants on our east coast, in Europe or the Far East, should Iranian oil be lost to the west---a plan for this to be submitted today to the government.
3. Building storage space this summer for the home heating fuel oil needed in next winter's peak demand.
4. Talking of ordering some eastern factories to use coal, instead of oil, if the Iranian squeeze develops.

True, the military demand for oil is twice what it was a year ago. And true, aviation gasoline has soaked up a lion's share of the highest octane quality. But the American Petroleum Institute points out today that military demand is still only five per cent of the total petroleum production in this country.

It's insignificant when you look at the unprecedented rate at which civilian demand has mounted.

The Institute quickly points out that the American oil industry has kept pace with the demand---even if it proved greater than anticipated. In the peaceful five years between V-J day and the Korean outbreak, the industry spent $10 billion on new plant and equipment. Refining capacity was raised 26 per cent, and daily oil production went up from 4,584,000 barrels daily in 1945 to 5,200,000 barrels daily in mid-1950.

Production is now in excess of 6,100,000 barrels a day. And refining capacity is being expanded by another 200,000 barrels a day to reach 7,061,350 barrels a day by the end of the year, to take care of domestic production and imports.

And the industry has gone on finding and developing new oil fields so that today, in spite of the heavy production, the nation has larger reserves of oil than ever before, API says.

Where does all the oil go? Well, there are more than 48 million motor vehicles in the country. There are more than 5.2 million oil burners in homes and factories. There are four million tractors on American farms. At the start of the year there were 4,393 more diesel locomotive units on order by American railroads. And world trade, reaching high levels this year, is carried in ships powered by oil.

If demand for oil continues to grow at the indicated rate, oil men figure they may have to expand facilities further in the next few years at a cost of $3 billion, with an additional $1 billion needed for repair and replacement of plant and equipment.

The industry is now spending around $100 million a year in research, compared with the $15 million it spent in 1925.

The best wishes of every one in the area go with two Warren county boys leaving this evening for Philadelphia for a week's training before sailing for Austria to attend the International Boy Scout Jamboree. They are Gilbert Sanford, of Youngsville, and David Glassman, Warren. Fortunate boys, indeed, they are about to have experiences rarely available to any youths, but richly earned by the lads who are to represent the county council at this important event.

In spite of the many events sponsored by the Jaycees over the Fourth of July period, a total of 3,711 children participated in activities at the playgrounds, indicating that local youngsters have a keen appreciation of the enjoyment offered at these recreation spots.

An unusually large number of tragic deaths recorded in the area over the weekend reminds of the important need for caution on the part of everyone, especially while engaged in vacation projects such as swimming and motoring.

As usual, it's the bathing beauties that interest men in going to the sea-side!

One of our archery enthusiasts hands us the following with a request that it be published:

Of interest to all sportsmen who wish to hunt with the bow and arrow in Pennsylvania this year, is the new law just signed by Governor John S. Fine. This new law calls for a bow and arrow season for male deer with two or more points. The season to be from Oct. 15 to Oct. 27, inclusive. In addition to the regular hunter's license, a special archery license costing $2.00 must be obtained. Archers may not carry a firearm of any kind during the season. It is expected that hundreds of new followers will join the ranks of the many organized archers throughout the state, to hunt deer with the bow and arrow for the first time. In passing this law Pennsylvania has at last joined the ranks of the neighbor New York State and the thirteen other states, that have long had a special season for hunting deer with the bow and arrow. Wisconsin alone has a record of sixteen years of deer hunting with the bow and arrow.

This 'N That: With the folks over at the Texas Lunch enjoying a vacation this week wonder where all those regular morning customers are getting their doughnuts and coffee? ... District Attorney M. A. Kornreich was in attendance at the annual convention of the district attorneys of the state held last week at Bedford Springs. ... Theodore N. Danas spent a busy weekend preparing his popular "Cozy Corner" confectiory establishment for reopening after being closed during his recent visit with relatives in Greece. ... The Hydetown baseball team, which registered a 7 to 5 win over the Warren Merchants at the State Hospital diamond Saturday afternoon, defeated the Wattsburg nine Sunday by a score of 14 to 6. ... Attendance at the Sheffield playgrounds the first week, was a little disappointing to Harry Hutchings, supervisor, who was expecting a larger turnout this week. Sheffield Veterans of Foreign Wars are sponsoring a donkey ball game at Memorial playgrounds Saturday night, July 14th, when all players excepting the pitchers and catchers will be "mounted". ... Primary election will be two weeks from today with but mild interest being shown by the electorate. ... Mrs. D. Cropp and R. K. Larson finished in second place in a duplicate bridge game played at the Kane Country Club Friday evening, and others from Warren were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Scallie and Mrs. Myer Kornreich. ... Part of the south side was blacked out for a while Saturday evening until trouble shooters from the Pennelec located and repaired the difficulty. ... Up at Kane the Red Cross chapter is trying to sign up 200 donors for the visit of the Bloodmobile there on Thursday of this week. ... Lack of interest on the part of Jamestown TV owners may force scrapping of the plan for a master television antenna, since about 35 TV owners have signified interest whereas 200 to 300 would be necessary to justify the installation. ... Crescent Park was a popular center of attraction for scores of motor parties seeking relief from the heat Sunday afternoon and evening. ... A large white boat lettered "Allegheny Belle", moored to the north bank of the river near the foot of Poplar street attracted considerable attention Sunday afternoon until the two men in charge resumed their voyage down the river with the aid of an outboard motor. ... The Jamestown Dental Society has come out with an outright endorsement of the plan to add sodium fluoride to that city's water supply. ... The Warren area was well represented among cherry pickers in the North East and Westfield orchards over the weekend.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

U. S. Has Worked Hard To Prepare for Korea Peace

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Peace plans for adoption at the end of the Korean war have been worked on by the U. S. State Department since early this year. The planning has been done principally through Washington representatives of the 16 nations that have troops in Korea. This group has been meeting twice a week at the State Department with Assistant Secretary Dean Rusk, who is in charge of Far Eastern Affairs. Original purpose of these meetings was to receive Pentagon reports and briefings on the Korean military situation. But the group got into policy questions for carrying on war, and planning peace. It was admittedly a somewhat unwieldy organization. On any document, most of the diplomats wanted to change words and commas around. And all important questions had to be referred back to home governments for decision.

In spite of this complexity, the group has helped unity anti-Communist bloc action at the United Nations. And the principal awkwardness has now been removed by designating the United States as the sole bargaining agent with Soviet Russia over the Korean cease-fire proposal. This simplifies matters considerably.

U. S. objectives in Korea were carefully analyzed when Secretary of State Dean Acheson testified before the MacArthur dismissal investigating committee of the Senate. The Secretary's testimony on June 1 and 2 is the basic document for study of peace prospects.

UNDER prolonged and sometimes repetitious questioning by Republican Senators Brewster of Maine and Smith of New Jersey, Secretary Acheson emphasized these points of U. S. policy on Korea:

1. Korea has never been designated by the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff as being within the American defense perimeter or of strategic importance to the United States.
2. Korea is important to the collective security of the free world of which the United States is a principal part, because Korea is the first country in which this collective security was attacked by outright aggression. If Korea were allowed to fall, the whole collective security system might fall with it.
3. UN objectives in Korea are two in number. The first is to repel the armed attack against the Republic of (South) Korea. The second is to restore peace and security in this area by military force. This is interpreted as restoring order on both sides of the 38th parallel, to prevent further aggression.
4. The long-term objective of the United Nations is to establish a free, independent and democratic Korea.

Considerable work has been done by the U. S. State Department and by the UN truce commissions in trying to make plans for this eventual unification of Korea. It is probably the thorniest of all the problems connected with future Korean peace.

FOR U. S. or UN negotiators to insist on unification of Korea under President Rhee's government, as a condition in the cease-fire agreement is now regarded as bad bargaining technique. It is held that this might stop the negotiations before they start. But it is admitted that obtaining unification later, by diplomatic peace negotiations, is something that will require much time.

What the United States and the United Nations stand to gain by this kind of settlement is open to debate. Some of the people who were formerly most rabid about the advisability of pulling out of Korea now seem to be shifting towards the position that it would be better to go on fighting for a more decisive victory. That would permit the imposition of better peace terms. In opposition to that, there is the argument that at least the casualties will stop if a cease-fire can be negotiated now.

TASK FORCE 77 REFUELS ON THE HIGH SEAS—Somewhere in the Sea of Japan off Korea, the carrier U. S. S. Princeton fills her tanks from a Navy tanker, as a destroyer, her tanks already filled, shoves off for the operational area. Refueling at sea is a standard practice that keeps the big ships of Fast Carrier Task Force 77 on combat stations for long periods of time without the need to return to port.

"TODAY" FOLLOWS "YESTERDAY"—This automatic hay baler, one of the most advanced farm machines, is usually pulled by an equally modern tractor. But on this farm, near New Holland, Pa., four mules provide the "horsepower." In most parts of the country, mules and horses are rapidly disappearing from the farm scene, but Amish farmers still cling to traditional draught animals. This farmer added a wagon hitch, seat and handbrake and substituted steel wheels for rubber tires to convert the baler into a mule-drawn machine.

WINDOWS WITH A BUILT-IN "CRASH"—This special window, designed to reduce hazards of flying glass during a bomb attack, was developed by the Pittsburgh (Pa.) Plate Glass Co. When hit by blast pressure, the window's four triangular sections, sealed together and hinged to the frame by a glass-plastic laminate, automatically give way. Top window has been broken apart, minus any flying glass fragments. Bottom window has been repaired after crash by use of a fastening bolt at center. Adhesive tape, putty or chewing gum will serve same purpose.

SNACK WHILE YOU SWIM—Something new has been introduced at Puerto Rican beaches for hungry folk who are enjoying the water so much they don't want to get out. It's the floating snack bar pictured above, known in Spanish as a "Cantina Flotante." Upon signal, the attendant paddles it over so you can help yourself to sandwiches, drinks and native pineapple.

PRIZE-WINNER AT SIX—Alain Cardot, six-year-old Paris artist, flashes a big smile after learning that he won the $750, first prize in the Marshall Plan Child Art Competition. The youth is working in his "outdoor studio" near the one-room house where his family lives. Part of his prize money will be used to find a better home, part for Alain's education.

"SPIRAL STAIRCASE"—This radically different type of television antenna, developed at General Electric's Syracuse, N. Y., plant, will be used for ultra-high-frequency transmission, which is expected to play a major role in the nation's future TV-expansion. The 40-foot-high helical antenna increases initial transmitting power 20 times, so is expected to bring the TV world into many new communities.

SAVITT SAVES IT IN STRAIGHT SETS—The United States won the Wimbledon, England, men's singles tennis title for the fifth straight year as Dick Savitt, above, of Orange, N. J., defeated Ken McGregor of Australia, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4, to top the world's most coveted tennis crown. Savitt, who has never taken a tennis lesson, became the first player to sweep the Australian and Wimbledon titles in the same year since Don Budge pulled the trick in 1938.

FOR WHOM THE SHELLS TOLL—Maj. Roy Dunford, of Vancouver, B. C., Canadian Army chaplain, uses this unique set of chimes to summon men of his unit to church services. The chimes are made from the empty cases of shells fired by the famous Canadian artillery unit, "Hell's Bells."

WAR DOESN'T STOP SCOUTS—Despite the war that has devastated their country, Korean Boy Scouts are carrying on in good shape, as a Navy combat photographer learned when he encountered this Cub patrol in Pusan. After some persuasion, they posed for this picture, with their three-star leader in the center.

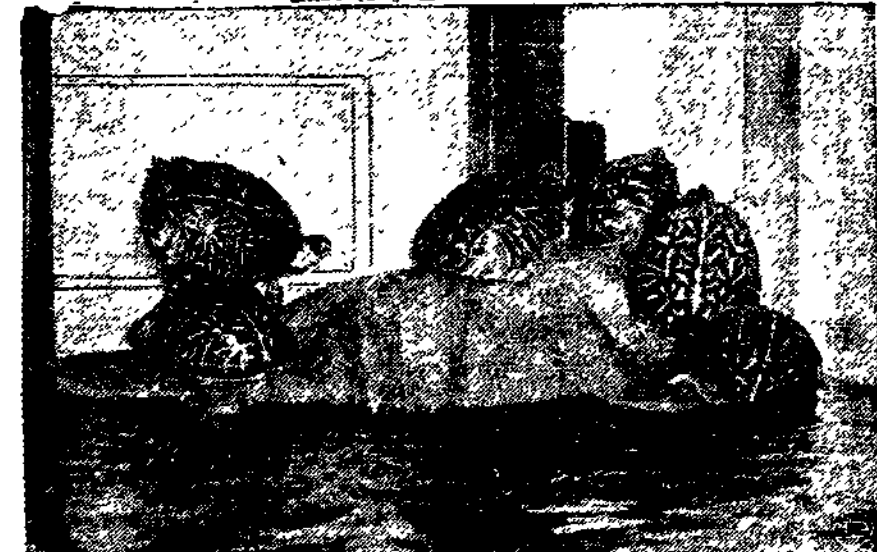

TO MINNESOTA HELM—Lt. Gov. C. Elmer Anderson, above, will become governor of Minnesota when the present governor, Luther W. Youngdahl, resigns Sept. 1 to replace the late Judge T. Alan Goldsborough as federal district judge in Washington. President Truman made the surprise nomination of Republican Youngdahl to the federal bench.

TURTLES IN THE "SOUP"—Turtles like water, but they also like to come out once in a while and get some air and sun. Thanks to flood waters that cover many areas in Kansas, these turtles are having a tough time trying to find a dry place on the back porch of this Wichita house.

SANDPLANING—All you need is a plywood sled, a jeep and a paid-up insurance policy, and you're set to whiz down the beach at 35 miles-an-hour. These intrepid youngsters are storming the sand at Southampton, N. Y. (NEA)

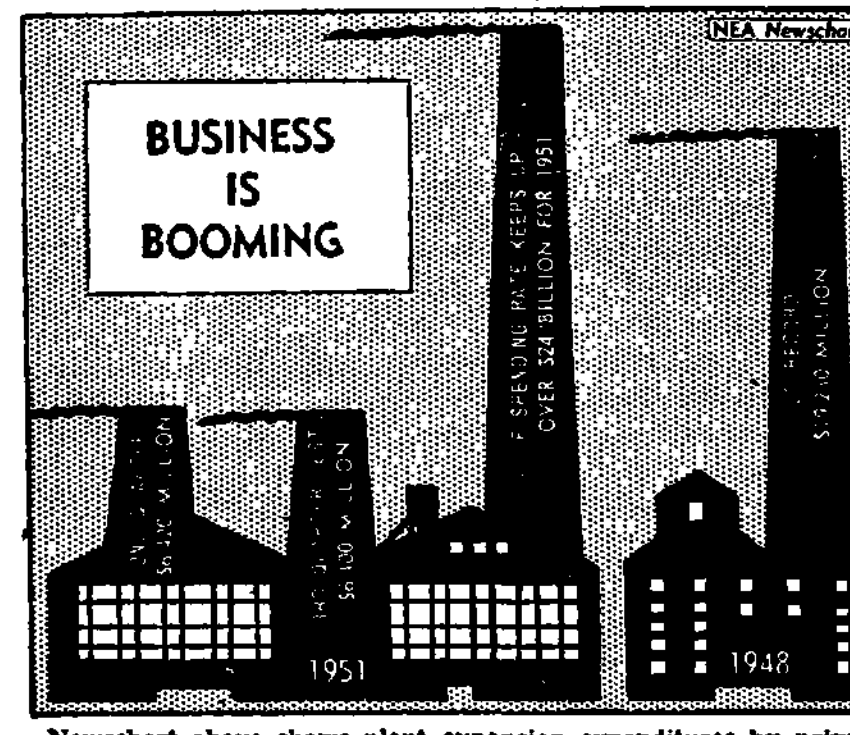

"SO LONG" SALUTE—Chief exponent of the use of the vital veto in UN councils, Jacob A. Malik, Soviet chief delegate to the United Nations, waves from the deck of the S. S. Gripsholm before sailing for home via Sweden on vacation. Before leaving, Malik expressed "best wishes to those who fight for peace and friendship."

Medina, Ohio—Until they immigrated to the U. S., the twelve-member Jacob Weibel family were European expellees—forbidden to return to their home in Yugoslavia. Brought here by relatives under the Displaced Persons Act, they are determined to become "number one good citizens" in the democratic land that adopted them.

Sept. 3, 1939—World War II starts as Hitler attacks Poland.
June 22, 1941—Nazis invade Russia.
Dec. 7, 1941—U. S. enters war after Japs attack Pearl Harbor.
June 4, 1944—Allies occupy Rome.
April 29, 1945—Italy and Austria surrender unconditionally.
May 6, 1945—Germany's surrender ends the war in Europe.
Aug. 5, 1945—Atomic age officially arrives when A-bomb blasts Hiroshima.
Sept. 9, 1945—Mao-Arthur announces occupation of Japan has officially started.
June 25, 1950—(Korean Time)—North Korean Communists invade South Korea.
July 8, 1951—North Korean and Chinese Communist officers meet with representatives of the UN commander-in-chief to prepare for cease-fire negotiations.

SUNDAY—DAY OF BIG NEWS-BREAKS—Sunday continues to live up to its reputation as a day of big wartime news-breaks. The latest was, of course, the meeting between Communist and UN officers to discuss a cease-fire that could end the Korean war. Other important news-breaks that came on Sundays are listed above.

Newschart above shows plant expansion expenditures by private commercial and industrial firms in 1951's second quarter (ended June 30), according to federal statistics. If businessmen keep expanding at present rate they will probably, as the chart indicates, spend about five billion dollars more for expansion than in the record year 1948.

Warren Conservatory of Music Has Excellent Program for Commencement

The Rev. Jordan Cole, pastor of Spring Creek community church, was principal speaker for the 45th annual commencement exercises of Warren Conservatory of Music, held Saturday evening.

A large and appreciative audience gathered in the concert hall, which was profusely decorated with roses, and enjoyed one of the finest commencement recitals in the history of the institution. Relatives and friends of the graduates were present from Kane, Sheffield, Youngsville, and other surrounding towns.

Rev. Cole spoke briefly but effectively on the "musician's part in fulfilling man's requisite needs".

Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell, presenting the diplomas, spoke of "the finer vibrations of man which are reached only through the arts".

Receiving diplomas for completion of the regular Conservatory course were Anna Belle Pierce, Youngsville; Walter Whaley, Warren; and Maceo Chatmon, Kane, for the Progressive Series teachers' course and as post-graduate in piano and teachers' work.

In addition, the following completed post-graduate work: Norine Granquist, Akeley, and Joan Retterer, North Warren, piano requirements; Marilyn Loomis McKinney, Youngsville; Jane Hovey, North Warren, and Gladys Jensen, Warren, all in the voice department.

Formal program numbers were: Invocation, Rev. Cole. Piano—Concerto in B flat minor (first movement), Tschalkowski—Walter Whaley, with Adelaide Swanson at the second piano. Voice—Aria from La Boheme, Puccini—Jane Hovey. Piano—Mexican Fantasia, Miller—Anna Belle Pierce, with Lilian Swanson at the second piano. Address, Rev. Cole. Piano—Prelude and Fugue, Guttman—Rive King—Norine Granquist. Voice—The Blind Girl's Song, Ponchielli; One Kiss from New Moon, Romberg; La Gianconda, Ponchielli—Marilyn Loomis McKinney. Piano—Rigoletto Fantasia, Verdi—Lillian—Joan Retterer. Presentation of diplomas, Dr. Campbell. Benediction, Rev. Cole.

Beware of 'Misery Mamie'—She Loves to Get You Down

It's never any pleasure to see Mamie. In half an hour's conversation Mamie can get even the most light-hearted acquaintance to wearing a gloomy look.

You can't look anything but long-faced when you are talking to her. It wouldn't be appropriate.

For Mamie wants to tell you all her troubles. The children are little demons. Her husband has always done something that gets her started on how inconsiderate or extravagant, or whatever, men are. Mamie, herself, is usually dead-tired. Everything has been so hectic. And she almost always has a few sad stories about mutual acquaintances.

You'd think from listening to her that she really had things tough.

NOT SO BADLY OFF

BUT the strange thing is—she doesn't actually. She has a husband who gives her, if not everything she wants, at least everything he can afford, including her own way in most things.

She has two healthy, normal children. She has a nice home, equipped with a good many luxuries.

She has health and a fair share of good looks. She could have a lot of friends, for she makes friends easily enough. But she doesn't hold them for long.

Because it is never any pleasure to see Mamie. She can always be counted on to give you a let-down instead of a lift.

And few people are willing to make an effort to see a person they know is going to make them feel worse instead of better.

Remember Mamie if your own troubles are your pet topic of conversation.

CENTRAL WCTU

Members of Central WCTU have been issued an invitation to a picnic at the home of Goldie Brown, 200 Hill street, on Thursday. The committee in charge is comprised of Mrs. B. R. Erickson, Mrs. Maurice Emery, Mrs. Duff and Miss Escobar. Each one is to bring a tureen and table service for dinner to be served between 12:30 and one o'clock.

WRONG GROUP NAMED

A recent item appearing under a Corydon dateline which credited the Nazarene Youth Fellowship with an enjoyable outing at Celoron Park, should have been young people of the Methodist church, we are informed.

Western Wedding

A beautiful outdoor ceremony performed at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, June 30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Laley, Tillicum, Wash., united in marriage their daughter, Marjory Watts, and Cpl. William E. Sadler, McChord Air Force Base, Tacoma, Wash., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sadler, 605 Beech street, Warren. Chaplain Bruce of McChord read the service under an arch of red, white, and pink roses, with natural shrubbery as a background. Recordings were used for the bride music, "I Love You Truly," "I'll Get By" and the traditional wedding march from "Lohengrin".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractively gowned in white, floor length and with rounded neckline. Her veil fell fingertip length from a heart-shaped halo and blue and pink asters were used in fashioning her bouquet. Her attendants, all from Tacoma, were the matron of honor, Mrs. Hagen, in blue-gray; Beverly Utter, in blue, and Carolyn Whiting, wearing pink. Completing the bridal party, Cpl. Thomas Webb of McChord was best man for Cpl. Sadler.

The reception for 70 guests followed in the bride's home, Mrs.

Laley receiving in a gold colored frock.

Cpl. and Mrs. Sadler will reside for the present at McChord, where the former is an Air Force instrument specialist. He is a graduate of Warren High School and former employee of the Times Publishing Company, and his bride is a graduate of Clover Park High School in Tillicum.

GNAGEY-GNAGEY

Harry E. Gnagey, Sr., of Warren, and Mrs. Kathleen K. Gnagey, of Boynton, Pa., were united in marriage on Saturday, July 7, at 2 p. m. in Holy Redeemer rectory. The Rev. M. E. Dailey performed the ceremony and attendants were Mr. and Mrs. James E. Gnagey.

After an extended trip into Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Gnagey will make their home in Boynton. Mrs. Gnagey has been active, since the death of her husband, in management of her agricultural and mining interests. Mr. Gnagey is a retired employee of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

JEAN SMITH TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

Miss Jean Smith will observe open church Saturday for her marriage to Ensign Caryl Whipple. The ceremony will be performed at four o'clock in Grace Methodist church.

HELEN MATHYER SETS WEDDING DATE

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mathyer, 14 Marver street, announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Helen Virginia, to Pvt. Walter J. Dremann, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dremann, 1 North State street, North Warren.

Miss Mathyer has chosen Saturday, July 21, as the date for her wedding.

VOICE RECITAL

On Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock, Byron Swanson will present a group of his Conservatory voice students in an Evening of Song. All interested are cordially invited to attend and enjoy this Conservatory event.

COMMUNION SERVICES

Two services of the Holy Eucharist are planned at Trinity Memorial church Thursday morning, the first at 7:30, the second at 10:00.

Mrs. Loree Is Guest For Pleasant Farewell Affair

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Loree and son, Tom, are leaving this week for Nevada, where they will make their future home.

Mrs. Loree was honored guest Saturday afternoon for a farewell tea given by Mrs. Clare Lawson and Mrs. Stanley Lawson at the home of the latter on Follett Run.

There were 24 friends and neighbors present to wish her good luck and happiness in her new home and to present her with a gift of luggage.

Mrs. Albert Hoffman and Miss Edith Hollister presided at a tea table attractively centered with small white daisies and white tapera.

Out of town guests included Miss Mattie Snyder, Camp Hill, and Mrs. Henry Anderson, McConnellsville, N. Y.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

OPERATOR TOLL DIALING

...and Long Distance is faster than ever!

With an amazing new Long Distance system, just installed in Western Pennsylvania at a cost of more than $8,000,000, Pittsburgh Long Distance Operators now dial direct to telephones in more than a thousand distant cities. The new system is called "Operator Toll Dialing."

Here's how this speedy new system works. Suppose you want to call a friend in, say, Oakland, California. You pick up your telephone and give the number to your operator, who quickly passes it on to a Long Distance Operator at the Pittsburgh Toll Center. Punching a set of keys that look like those on an adding machine, Long Distance "dials" the 3-digit code for Oakland and then your friend's number. A series of electronic switches searches out the speediest available cross-country route and rings the number. In a matter of seconds after you have placed your call—usually under a minute—you hear "Hello!" from across the country.

YOU CAN HELP MAKE OUT-OF-TOWN CALLS EVEN FASTER!

You can help make Long Distance service even faster by following these two suggestions:

CALL BY NUMBER to avoid an extra call to information in the distant city

REMAIN ON THE LINE
while the Long Distance Operator puts your call through

It's a smart idea to keep a handy list of out-of-town numbers you have occasion to call. If you'd like a Personal Telephone Directory for this purpose, just ask our Business Office.

You will rarely find a large prescription shop. They are almost invariably small shops, filled on end with various containers of expensive powders, liquids and ointments, many from the far parts of the world. The personal touch keeps the prescription shop a personalized, small business.

But in no business, very large or even very small, will you find more lofty, professional ideals, a stricter adherence to duty, a more zealously guarded integrity, a more ethical standard of dealing both with the public and the medical profession from which it stems and on which it depends.

We are proud to be such a business catering to both you and the physicians of Warren. We invite your prescription work.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

DESPITE the heat, man must eat. Even if the family is away in the country, those left at home should find easy to prepare food on the shelves. That's where those 3½ ounce cans of junior meats come in tidily.

Added to canned cream soups, these diced meats turn them into jiffy one-dish meals. Junior meats can be used painlessly in any quick recipe calling for meats. So here are a few worry-scouting suggestions for lonesome diners.

These minute recipes carry on the food for the lonely idea further:

Pork Chop Suet (1 large serving)

One 3½ ounce can chopped pork, ¼ cup chopped onion, ¼ cup chopped celery, ¼ cup sliced mushrooms, 1 tablespoon fat, ¼ cup broth (from pork and bean sprouts), 1 teaspoon flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ½ cup bean sprouts or cooked shredded cabbage, soy sauce, cooked rice.

Drain meat. Brown onion, celery, mushrooms in hot fat. Add broth. Cover and cook until vegetables are tender. Combine flour and 2 teaspoons water.

Add to vegetables with pork, seasonings, sprouts. Cook for 2 to 3 minutes, stirring gently. Season with soy sauce and serve on hot rice.

Beef and Chip Casserole (1 serving)

One 3½ ounce can chopped beef, 1½ cups broken potato chips, ½ can condensed cream of mushroom soup.

Remove meat from can. Drain. Alternate layers of meat and 1 cup of chips. Add soup and meat broth. Top with rest of chips.

Bake at 350 degrees F. 30 minutes, or until lightly browned on top.

Quick Chili (1 large serving)

One 3½ ounce can chopped beef, 1 tablespoon fat, 2 tablespoons diced onion, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon chili powder, dash of pepper, ½ cup cooked tomatoes or tomato soup, ½ cup cooked red kidney beans.

Remove meat from can. Drain. Melt fat in skillet, add onion until brown. Add remaining ingredients, including broth from meat. Cook slowly until flavors are blended, about 15 minutes.

Hearty Meat Salad (1 large serving)

One 3½ ounce can chopped beef, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon French dressing, ½ teaspoon finely chopped onion, ½ cup chopped celery, ¼ cup cooked peas, ¼ cup pickle relish, 1 tablespoon mayonnaise (optional), lettuce, 1 hard cooked egg, sliced.

Remove meat from can and drain, saving broth for soup or sauce. Add salt, dressing, onion, celery, peas, relish. Chill. Add mayonnaise, just before serving. Do not overmix. Serve in crisp lettuce cup garnished with egg slices.

TOMORROW'S MENU

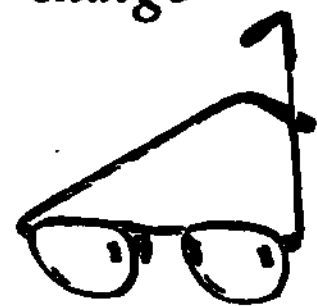

BREAKFAST: Sliced peaches, shredded wheat, raisin toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Casserole of garden vegetables in cheese sauce, crisp rolls, butter or fortified margarine, fresh fruit bowl, tea, milk.

LONESOME DINNER: Jiffy beef and chip casserole, enriched rolls, butter or fortified margarine, lettuce and tomato salad, fresh berries, cup cakes, quick soluble coffee, milk.

Executive Board of Boy Scout Council Holds June Meeting

The July meeting of the executive board of the Warren County Council was held last night at the Warren High School with the following board members in attendance: Ivan S. Brumagin, Dr. W. L. Ball, Byron Knapp, W. L. Hickey, H. L. Banghart, Ed C. Lowrey, C. W. Rogers, F. M. Caughey, W. M. Hill and W. E. Sanford. President Carl M. Whipple presided.

The principal subject of discussion was the camp reservations for the 1951 season and the improvements being made at Camp Olmsted.

Dr. W. L. Ball indicated that medical checks will be given each Scout on the day of his arrival at camp. This service will be rendered by Dr. Ball, Dr. J. E. Thompson, of Youngsville, Dr. Raymond Lowe and Dr. W. S. Walters.

Harold Banghart reported on three Scouts attending a National Junior Leaders Training Course at Schiff Scout Reservation in New Jersey. They are Robert Bannion, David Hoffman and Jerry McConnell.

At the conclusion of the board meeting Explorer David Glassman, who is leaving this evening on the first leg of a trip to the International Jamboree in Austria, was reviewed and passed to the rank of Eagle Scout.

State Constitution Revision Proposed

Harrisburg, July 10—(P)—A new proposal to rewrite Pennsylvania's 77-year-old constitution was before the House today.

Rep. Albert Johnson (R-McKean) introduced administration-backed legislation last night authorizing a constitutional convention to revise the state's outmoded charter.

The legislation would put the question of the constitutional convention before the voters in the Nov. 7 general election.

It also would require both major political parties to select convention delegates by August 1 for placing on the November ballot.

The voters would select 65 delegates on the basis of one each from the state's 50 senatorial districts and 15 delegates at large.

If the voters approved the constitutional revision plan, the convention would get underway next Jan. 1 and conclude its work by Sept. 1, 1952. The new or revised constitution would then go before the voters in the 1952 general election.

Obituaries

MRS. WILLIAM J. JOHNSON
Word has been received from Jamestown that Selma Youngren Johnson, wife of William J. Johnson, Orr street extension, died at the family home at 4:20 a. m. Monday.

Born January 7, 1875, in Smoland, Sweden, she was the daughter of Carl and Brita Youngren. A former resident of this section, she had lived in Jamestown for the past 26 years. She was a member of the Golden Age Society.

Besides her husband, she leaves three daughters and one son, Mrs. John Swanson, Mrs. Eric Nelson, Mrs. Mark Hoover and Reynold Johnson, all of Jamestown; also eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren; three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Lena Anderson, Helen, Carl and Andrew Youngren, in Sweden.

Services in her memory will be held from the Henderson and Lincoln chapel at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday. The Rev. Lawrence F. Nordstrom, pastor of Bethel Lutheran church, will officiate and interment will be made in Busti cemetery.

Staff Preps Camp Olmsted for 25th Season of Activity

A staff of highly trained and experienced people moved to Camp Olmsted today to get it ready for the 25th season of operation.

The camp registrations at present indicate that this will be on a par with any previous season.

Units registered for the first week, which begins Saturday, include Troop 9, First Methodist church, under the leadership of John Stahl; Troop 11, Lacy School PTA, under the leadership of Bob Shine; Troop 5, B. P. O. Elks, under the leadership of Bill Mulvey; and Troop 2, under the leadership of Earl Mohnkern and Fred Watt.

The camp staff is headed by Scout Executive Rut Sanford, and includes Elmer Pilling, of Pittsburg, as program director; Dick Ruhlman, as water-front director. Aides in the program department include Robert Bannion, Robert Koehly, Bill Wehner, and Lewis Garber. Robert Swick will be in charge of activities. The dining department will be in charge of Mrs. Elmer Pilling. Assisting her will be Lewis Jones, of Ludlow, Gordon Mortenson, Ludlow, John Mourer, Youngsville, and Larry Currie, Warren.

Chapter 29

"Did she give him her address?" "No," Leighton added significantly. "But she used the phone in her own furnished apartment."

Jigger nodded. "Her father simply traced the call. How is it you didn't take hold of her problem? Really take hold of it?"

"I couldn't, not without exposing myself. I'd already become too intimately involved."

"Why did she engage the apartments as Anne Brown?"

"Discretion. She had scraped up some friendships as Sally Woods that she wanted to be done with. But the new alias was mainly a discretion for my sake, on my account."

Jigger knit his brow intensely and cupped a hand over his eyes. There was a dull aching in his head, like the aftermath of a rain of blows. Better get up and go, he told himself. There was nothing more here. No guilt, no mystery, no trap—That was the gist of all the talk, or any further talk Leighton would offer. Jigger glared angrily. Glib Leighton was pinning a horse collar on him—

—If his mind now wasn't groaning like an engine about to die, Jigger swore to himself, he'd find a way of transferring the horse collar to his wily host. Place Leighton at the murder scene, then see how glib!—Fetch the amnesia from Harbor House, bring him to face Leighton, then watch Leighton fall apart!

Jigger got up to shake off the feeling of helplessness and was surprised to find himself tottering. He sat down heavily.

"Hey, Leighton, what was in those drinks?"

Leighton said, "You're drunk," and staggered to a chair.

Jigger laughed suddenly. "So are you drunk, Leighton."

They joined in a wild howl of laughter, and then sat quietly contemplating each other. Jigger said, "Confess you hit the bum on the head and brain him." He waved a chiding finger. "Confess you hired the actress."

Leighton lumbered to his feet. He made his way to the desk, and fumbled in a drawer. Then he staggered over to Jigger and opened his hand. A shower of money fell into Jigger's lap.

Jigger pushed the money to the floor. He said, "No bribes," then slumped into his seat and began to drowse off.

THE ringing telephone scattered clouds of sleep. Jigger forced his eyes open and watched Leighton cross the room to the telephone. He stared, muttering all that was left of his faculties into the look.

Leighton was walking surely, with a sudden posture. Jigger closed his eyes to slits and listened.

There was nothing to overhear—Leighton was just saying "yes," and over again, in a guarded undertone. Leighton hung up, and came to stand over Jigger. Jigger thought about it as he was, Jigger felt a chill go through him—Leighton's face seemed to have shrunk; the eyes were enormously large, bulging larger than the face.

Jigger started to get up, but he was knotted below the knees. He worked his feet close, then climbed up on them.

"Leighton, I got to be going now."

Leighton seized his arm wildly. "I'm innocent; help me." He scooped and picked some of the scattered money up. "I'll pay—any price you ask, I'll pay."

Jigger pushed the money away. He fought to the door, beating the air with his fists. He reached the door, got it open, and flung into the hall.

Men in Service

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lucia, 15 Walnut street, have received word from their son, Pvt. Eugene Lucia, that he has arrived in Japan after a 17-day trip aboard the Marine Adder. He has rejoined his regiment, the 180th Infantry, 45th Division.

Howard C. States, USN, of Jamestown, home from the U. S. Naval Hospital at Portsmouth, Va., told friends while in town that he was with Dick Bean of Warren in the Medical Corps for five months, serving aboard the USS E. O. Greene.

Otto J. Sidon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sidon, Warren RD 3, has been promoted to the grade of corporal at Andrews Air Force Base, Washington, D. C., where he is assigned to headquarters of the Military Air Transport Service. Cpl. Sidon has just returned to his base after spending a 15-day leave with his family, receiving news of his advancement while at home.

Recommendations in Budget for the State Department

356,000 it requested, a cut of 1 1/2 per cent.

The Commerce Department was given $612,698,000 of the $763,763,925 it wanted, a cut of 20 per cent.

The Federal Judiciary was cut from $26,489,740 to $25,918,115, a 2.2 per cent reduction.

The $1,051,715,115 total in the four-agency measure was $206,581,026 less than the $1,258,296,141 the president requested. That is a reduction of about 16 per cent.

The committee's action, of course, is subject to approval by the House and then the Senate.

Nowhere in a lengthy written report accompanying the bill did the committee refer directly to Acheson.

The report, written by Rep. Rooney (D-NY), emphasized the need for "a strong Department of State" as "essential not only to the best interests and defense of this nation but also to the maintenance and expansion of freedom throughout the world."

Rooney is chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee which considered the money measure.

donick, unable to get further response, wondered in a daze what to do next.

Then a man's gruff voice came over the line: "She's all right, Bud. We're taking her to a hospital. The little girl's okay, too. She's playing in the yard."

Later Cardonick was told the police had smashed through a back door into the kitchen and found his wife partly conscious on the floor. Her condition was reported to be fair.

Cardonick is 36, his wife 32.

Albert Kondak

The funeral of Albert Kondak, who died Saturday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Winston Churchill, 1013 Conewagon avenue, was held at 9 a. m. today at Holy Redeemer church, Father M. E. Attending the rites from away were Mr. and Mrs. John Wilker, Joseph Wilker, Monesson; Mr. and Mrs. John Churchill, Rosedale; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Churchill, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Marie Sulzinski, Jersey City, N. J.; Theodore Schwet, West Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Krupa, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. John Krupa, Sr., Mrs. John Krupa, Jr., Russellton; also friends and relatives from Tions, Saybrook, Clarendon, and Sheffield.

Rotary Club Hears Convention Report

Highlights of the annual convention of Rotary International and reports of standing committees of the local club featured the weekly Rotary luncheon-meeting held Monday at the YWCA activities building.

A large photograph of the great convention hall at Atlantic City, N. J., showing Rotarians from 47 different countries, was used by the newly-elected president of the local club, W. E. Lutz, who, with his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Neils Anderson, attended the May 27-31 sessions.

Chairmen responding to his call for reports of activities of the past year were: Ernest Hagenlocher, vocational service; T. R. Sponsler, rural-urban committee; Nat W. Drake, community service; W. E. Yeager for LeRoy Schneek, international service; W. F. Cross, traffic safety; Horace M. Stevenson, music.

Dr. Carl E. Whipple, fellowship; Ralph L. Owens, attendance; E. R. Sanford, youth service; H. A. Cray, Crippled Children's Committee; Ivan Brumagin, Rotary Magazine; F. M. Caughey, membership; with Elwood Fry, sergeant at arms; and Percy Belknap, club secretary.

16th Corps Officer Gets New Assignment

Washington, July 10—(P)—Lieut. Gen. Edward M. Almond, commander of the 10th Corps in Korea, is returning to this country to become commandant of the Army War College at Carlisle Barracks, Pa.

The Army said yesterday Almond soon will be relieved of his 10th Corps command to which he was appointed after the Korean War started.

It was Almond's 10th Corps which made the far northward advance in Korea last fall, then retreated to the coast for evacuation after the Chinese Communists entered the war.

Two Colleges Get Foundation Grants

Pittsburgh, July 10—(P)—Two western Pennsylvania colleges have been awarded Buhl foundation grants totaling $520,000, but they must equal the contributions to qualify.

Allegheny College at Meadville will get $270,000 and Grove City College will receive $250,000. The foundation funds are awarded under a program to aid small liberal arts institutions.

In the past year Allegheny College has raised $835,000 in a campaign for $1,250,000 to build new structures and a dormitory. To qualify for the grant the fund drive must be raised to $1,375,000.

THE white light at the end of the long tunnel became blindingly bright as he moved closer to it. Jigger fixed his gaze into the light, and saw a white vision, with a glimmer of light over him. He closed and opened his eyes rapidly, then looked straight into her face. She smiled comfortingly, took the long thin glass out of his mouth, then went to a square enameled table and wrote on a pad.

She came back, helped him tip his head forward, and put a glass to his lips. Jigger set his elbows down on a table and sipped obediently, letting his eyes roam. Soon the design grew and elaborated in mind. He was in bed under crisp sheets; tightly bedded in with his arms imprisoned, with a nurse before him. He looked to the window. It was daytime, bright and clear. He could see a balcony shaped in an 'L' against the back of a gray-brick building. On it were people wearing robes over pajamas. Patients. It was a hospital.

Jigger put fingers to his nose, cheeks, forehead. His fingers retraced the area slowly. Bandages: he was wearing a skull cap of bandages and tape. His eyes flashed alarm.

"Just nasty cuts," the nurse said comfortingly.

"How long have I been here?"

"You've been unconscious through the night."

The opening door sent a draught of air over him. A man in a doorway motioned, and the nurse left the room. The man entered, and came up to the bed.

It was Captain Prescott.

Prescott regarded him coldly. "Are you able to talk?" he asked. Jigger smiled weakly. How much did Prescott know, he wondered.

Prescott said, "You can get it all off your chest. There's little you can tell me that I don't already know. He took a folded newspaper out of his pocket and held it before Jigger.

A headline and a sub-head surmounted a short, bulletinized story: "MERLE LEIGHTON ARRESTED"

Chapter 31

IN TRUNK MURDER"—and—"RADIO PERSONALITY, POLICE CHIEF, AND ARMED MURDER BY ASSAULT."

It was evidently a spot news flash; the detailed story would appear in a later edition.

Prescott snapped the newspaper away. "The case is practically wrapped up. We got Leighton, Arents and Rumely. Matthew Hunter was taken into custody hours ago. We got statements from Leighton and Arents. We'll get one from Rumely when he recovers enough to be able to talk. Matthew Hunter's probably sweating out a statement right now in County Jail." Prescott stopped, his eyes holding Jigger expectantly.

JIGGER stared speechlessly, seeking his wits. It was something to grapple with—He'd been asleep for a lifetime, while history finished and filed a story in the archives. He was Rip Van Winkle, suddenly awake and living in yesterday.

Jigger nibbled at the new reality one bite at a time. "When Rumely recovers, you said?"

Prescott said tersely, "Fractured skull. Rumely got the worst of it when you wrestled him into that fall down the cellar. He landed on top of you, but his head cracked against a wall."

Now the direct riding on Easter egg was fitted into his real experience. Rumely—Rumely had been walking him into the night, to his murder. But the flame? Jigger said, "Rumely shot at me—I remember now."

And missed by a mile. The bullet knocked a flower pot off a tenement window ledge. Rumely was too off-balance when he fired." Prescott pulled up a chair and sat down. "You were marked for murder. Jigger. Leighton sent you out to Rumely half-dead. But Rumely muffed his half of the job."

Jigger waited until the night before fully reorganized itself in his memory. After, while he asked, "What did Leighton dose me with?"

"Knockout drops. Enough to floor an elephant."—Now there was just a touch of wonderment

Chapter 32

He was blind behind painted glass. He felt along the wall down the hall; found the elevator button by starting ten pronged fingers from his knees and striking at the wall.

Deep spaces now.

He was in a box. He crouched low to the floor as the machine dropped into the pit.

More deep spaces.

Hand: hoisted him out of the pit and passed him along as in a game. He could feel warm bodies pinioned against him.

He took a gasp of air as the hands dropped off him.

He peered through painted glass, and the pull of gravity dropped him to his hands and knees. He stayed down until the world stopped, until he could feel the cold floor under his hands.

Now hands hoisted him again. He could feel himself bodilessly projected in slow motion; he could feel the movement of time by more of the mist settling on his face and eyes.

See saw things in the haze of a dream, but not in his own experience.

He was now moving in vast areas, freed from the drag of his own limbs.

He opened one eye by keeping the other closed.

He was in a giant Easter egg under the moon. He could hear, by giving it every nerve he had, "Better no tricks."

The metal pressed the side of his cheek. Cold, and soothing. Ice cold, and frightening.

He was in a vast, open space. He could feel himself in his fingers until they became claws coiled around the giant Easter egg.

The egg spun, first in a tedious, slow spiral, then fast, faster. A flame burst and he dived in a descending.

Down.

Deep down.

It was dark and warm under the egg.

Chapter 33

in Prescott's tone. "Seeing you stand up under it, with enough to bump Rumely, was seeing a miracle."

Knockout drops! Jigger winced. It was a trick wearing Father Time's beard. He'd gone for a gag—Leighton had really tied a horse collar on him. Leighton had suggested scotch, but had poured from the rye decanter for himself.

Jigger said disgustedly, "Miracle is the word all right. It's a miracle I'm alive, playing village idiot for Leighton the way I did."

But Prescott wasn't rejoicing over the miracle. His expression was austere, and his eyes hostile. Jigger stared at the police captain for a solemn moment.

"You said you saw me and up under it?" Jigger asked suddenly. "Seeing me jump Rumely?"

"I was following close behind—in a squad car."

Jigger's eyes narrowed. "Suddenly from nowhere?"

"From the suite adjoining Leighton's. We had his rooms wired. We heard everything that went on all the time you were with Leighton. The switchboard girl signalled me when Rumely phoned up from downstairs and Leighton gave him the okay to go ahead and do his stuff. When Rumely picked you off the side-walk, I was right behind in a squad car."

Jigger said, "Front seat at a show, huh?" His thoughts were bearing down on an idea that were sending shivers through him.

Prescott said nothing.

Jigger said, "You picked me out of the cellar?"

"I called an ambulance."

The cold waves kept running through him; it took everything he had, keeping his tones even. Jigger said, "Disappointing Act Three curtain to the show for you, huh?"

Prescott looked steadily at him, but didn't reply.

Jigger said, "You didn't have to wait for the final curtain, Prescott. You could have closed the show in the second act."

Prescott said, "It wasn't that bad a show."

Youngsville Whips Floridin Co., Hammond Shades Sons of Italy

Youngsville Suppas topped Floridin Co., 7-1, and Hammond Iron shaded the Sons of Italy, 5-4, last night as the Sunset Baseball League resumed after an idle week due to the Fourth of July holidays.

The first half schedule ends Wednesday night when Hammond Iron battles the Floridin Co. at Jackson field, although there are still several postponed games to be played off. Suppas will meet the Sons of Italy Wednesday night in the playoff of one of these postponed tilts, and will tangle with Hammond Iron at Wilder field on Thursday night.

The Youngsville-Floridin game was played at Wilder field. Strauss started on the mound for Suppas. Kifer took over in the second inning with the bases loaded and fanned Cummings to retire the side. He then pitched four-hit ball to win. Thompson and Falvo shared mound duty for Floridin.

Extra-base blows included a triple and a double by L. Haight for Suppas, doubles by Juliano and

PONY LEAGUE

By The Associated Press

The Cornin Athletics, bottom team in the PONY baseball league, met the leading Jamestown Falcons last night and took a 4-3 decision in 11 innings.

The Athletics won it in the top of the 11th when left-fielder Steve Sobocan singled in the winning run after two men had walked. Jamestown failed to score in its half of the final inning.

Olean's Oilers, current second-place team and hot-stove favorites for the pennant, crept up on the Falcons by beating Batavia, 11-3. The win left Olean only 22 points off Jamestown's 645 percentage pace.

The league's other creeper, Wellsville, pulled closer to third-place Hornell by trouncing the Dodgers, 14-4.

In the other games last night, Bradford and Hamilton split. Hamilton won the first, 6-0, and lost the second, 8-3.

MIDDLE ATLANTIC

By The Associated Press

The Erie Sailors, pennant winners of the first half Middle Atlantic League action, went into first place last night by defeating Niagara Falls 3-2 and 9-4.

Lockport advanced to second place with a twin win over Butler. The New Yorkers beat the cellar dwelling Tigers 5-2 and 6-3.

The Oil City-New Castle game was postponed because of rain.

Jack Byers tripled to drive in one run and then scored the winning marker for Erie in the fifth inning of the first game against Niagara Falls. The Sailors scored four runs in the first inning of the second game and coasted to the victory.

A three-run attack in the second inning proved enough for Lockport to cop its first-game victory from Butler. Frank Wagner had a three-hit shutout going into the ninth innings of the second contest when Butler scored all of its runs.

OUTDOOR WRESTLING AT GERRY TONIGHT

Gerry—Moved outdoors back to the Gerry Rodeo grounds seven miles from Jamestown, professional wrestling resumes here tonight with Ronnie Etchison, the Pacific Coast heavyweight championship claimant, facing Lord Blears, the clever Englishman, in the feature.

Promoter Frank Scaglione has paired Sander Kovacs and Don Lewin for the semi windup and will introduce a newcomer, Toni Verdi, in the opener. Verdi tackles Benito Gardin, the "Little Flower."

The first bout is on at 8:30.

Softening of Water Is Big Business In 3,000 Communities

It takes more than 6,000 employees in over 3,000 communities to provide completely soft water for two and one-half million Americans, according to Bob Schenholm, owner of the Culligan Soft Water Service, 210 Fifth avenue, east.

Reporting on the influence which the Culligan Soft Water Service has in the communities it covers, Bob Schenholm said that more than 25,000,000 gallons of water are softened every year. This represents nearly two billion railroad tank cars of water.

To properly service the 700,000 families which use Culligan softened water, the nation's 1,000 dealers maintain and operate 3,500 trucks. They use an additional 1,800,000,000 gallons of water in the process of regenerating the zeolite used in the process.

Water is softened by filtering it through a tank of zeolite, a mineral which withdraws and retains hardness as the water passes through. After softening a given quantity of water, the zeolite loses this power, and it can be regenerated only by backwashing and rinsing with a salt solution.

The salt used to regenerate the nation's water softeners amounts to 140,000,000 pounds and would fill 3,500 freight cars.

"Dealing in these astronomical figures doesn't even give an indication of the economical importance of soft water which saves the average family over $100 annually," Bob Schenholm concludes.

Robert L. Jones Elected Head of Sheffield C. of C.

Officers were elected at the reorganization meeting last night of Sheffield's Chamber of Commerce held in the Odd Fellows hall. Named to the presidency was Robert L. Jones.

Other officers filled were: vice president, Robert Fitch; secretary, George Moldovan; treasurer, Charles Dulan; board of directors, Robert A. Fersche, Burdette Weiser, Miss Mildred Barr, John Zandi, Thomas Sanford, Gerald Camp and Laurence Newburg.

There was much discussion as to whether it should be a Senior Chamber of Commerce or a Junior Chamber of Commerce. The majority voted for the senior organization.

The next meeting will be at the call of the officers and board of directors.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary will meet in Cederlof hall for the regular July meeting. Mrs. John Watts and Mrs. Mary Augsburg will be the hostesses.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Bethany Lutheran church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in the church. Mrs. Herman Carlson will be the hostess.

Sheffield members of the Warren County Council of Republican Women are invited to attend the council meeting to be in the form of a tureen picnic at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday at Island park, Youngsville.

Coffee and rolls will be provided with those attending to bring a tureen and their own table service. Speaker will be Ralph Sires, prothonotary of Warren county.

More than 25 per cent of the total foods consumed annually by the average American consists of milk and milk products.

Veteran of Airlift Is Given Promotion

The Rev. and Mrs. Nore G. Gustafson, 4 East Third avenue, arrived home after spending the month of June in Minnesota, have learned from their son, 1st Lt. Nore Gustafson that he has been advanced to aircraft commander in the 315th Air Division in Japan.

Gustafson, a veteran of the Korean airlift, has flown 160 missions to Korea since the beginning of the fighting in that country and is now in charge of and responsible for the C-54s flying to and from the battle areas. He writes his parents that he hopes to be back in the States by October; also that Myron Bell, Sheffield, with whom he trained as an air cadet in Texas, has joined his outfit in Japan.

The May 15th issue of The Airlift Times, published by the 315th, carried an interesting account of the GI passenger and combat cargo missions, as flown by Lt. Gustafson and his outfit, two full pages of pictures illustrating the story.
